Distillation Legality

In the United States Home distilling is federally illegal, meaning that hobbyists cannot distill alcohol for personal consumption in any state without a permit.

Although Missouri state law says that someone over 21 can manufacture 100 gallons of liquor per year, federal law says NO WAY. Federal law trumps state law, so it's still illegal. Even in Missouri.

Please research and know the risks of home distillation.

*Still Spirits Products are designed and manufactured in New Zealand. In New Zealand it is legal to distil your own spirits and liqueurs for personal consumption.
